

Sydney Comes Together as One - Divine Steps Festival

10 November 2019 | Pyrmont Bay Park

Sydney Comes Together as One on 10 November - Your Invitation to the Divine Steps Festival

On Sunday 10 November 2019 (9am to 4pm) at Pyrmont Bay Park, Pyrmont, the multifaith community of Sydney shall join together for NSW's first ever Divine Music Festival to celebrate unity, faith and humanity, in honour of the legacy Guru Nanak Dev Ji, the first Guru of the Sikh faith.

Hindu Council of Australia is partnering with Sikh Youth Australia and 26 multifaith organisations across Sydney in putting this event together.

Alongside members of other faith communities, enjoy FREE Divine musical performances (Choirs, Bhajans, Qawwalis, Kirtan, Prayers, Chanting and Poems by various faiths), Delicious Langar (free Indian vegetarian food), Religious exhibitions, Charity walks, Interfaith stalls and Children's activities (including face painting, henna, and jumping castles) - all right in the heart of Sydney. There will be no alcohol or non-vegetarian food served at the Festival.

WAYS YOU CAN GET INVOLVED

1. Follow us on Facebook: Join the Divine Steps Festival page to keep up to date with exciting announcements, sneak-peak photos and more!

Click for event updates and more

2. Register to join a Charity Walk on the day to raise funds for in support of Father Chris Riley's Youth Off The Streets, and the Can Too Foundation.

I want to help raise money for charities

3. Join us on the day! Bring your friends along to share the Divine Steps Festival experience with them!

I'll be there...and I'll bring a friend!

We hope you join us as part of this unique opportunity for Sydney to come together and celebrate a message of progressiveness and humanism with the wider Australian community
